It is to the Powers in Behalf of The Jews of Roumania.

THEY ARE BADLY TREATED

They Are Not Desirable Immigrants And Must Not be Damped on This Country.

Washington, Sept. 17.-With the double purpose of protecting the long. suffering Jews of the Balkan states and of averting the ever-present peril of the immigration into the United States of a horde of paupers, Secy. Hay has adopted the unusual course of appealing to the powers of Europe to force one of their children to observe the obligations of humanity in the case of the Jews. The appeal takes the form of a state paper, remarkable in several respects, which has been dispatched in dentical form to every ambassador and minister of the United States residing in one of the countries which were parties to the famous treaty at Berlin of 1878, namely, Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Austria and Turkey, marking the termination of the Turko-Russian war, and the creation by the direct act of the powers of the independent Balkan states. use the powers are thus responsihe for the existence of Roumania, the culprit in this case, the secretary of state has directed the note to them in the hope that they will bring this government to a sense of its duties toward civilization at large, as well as to cause it to ameliorate the frightful condition of the Roumanian Jews. In measure this action by the state department may be traced to numerous petitions from Jewish societies and humanitarians generally, as well as to the warnings of publicists respecting the growing dangers of the immigra-tion of degenerates. The document says: In the course of an instruction recently sent to the minister accredited to the government of Roumania, in re-gard to the basis of a negotiation begun with that government looking to a convention of naturalization between the United States and Roumania, cer-tain considerations were set forth for the minister's guidance concerning the character of the emigration from that country, the causes which constrain it and the consequences so far as they adversely affect the United States.

It has seemed to the president ap-ropriate that these considerations, reating as they do to the obligations entered into by the signatories of the treaty of Berlin of July 13, 1878, should be brought to the attention of the governments concerned and commended to their consideration in the hope that, If they are so fortunate as to meet the approval of the several powers, such may be taken to persuade the govern-ment of Roumania to reconsider the subject of the grievance in question.

"The United States welcomes now, as it has welcomed from the foundation of government, the voluntary immiconditions fitting them to become merged in the body politic of this land. Our laws provide the means for them ecome incorporated indistinguisha. in the mass of citizens, and pre scribe their absolute equality with the native born, guaranteeing to them equal civil rights at home and equal them tection abroad. The conditions are few, looking to their coming as free agents so circumstanced physically and morally as to supply the healthful and intelligent material of free citizenhood. The pauper, the criminal, the contagiously or rably diseased are excluded from the benefits of immigration only when they are likely to become a source of danger or a burden upon the commun-The voluntary character of their coming is essential, hence we shut out immigration, assisted or constrained by foreign agencies. The purpose of our generous treatment of the allen immigrant is to benefit us and him alike-not to afford to another state a field upon which to cast its own obectionable elements.

The foregoing considerations, while pertinent to the examination of the arpose and scope of a naturalization reaty, have a larger aim. It behooves state to scrutinize most jealously te character of immigration from a breign land, and, if it be obnoxious, to ine the causes which render it so. bould those causes originate in the act of another sovereign state to the detriment of its neighbors, it is the of an injured state to point out e evil and to make remonstrances, with nations, as with individuals, the social law holds good that the right feach is bounded by the right of a

The conditions of a large class of the inhabitants of Roumania have for many years been a source of grave concern to the United States. I refer Roumanian Jews, numbering 60,000. "The Jews are prohibited from own ng land or even from cultivating it as common laborers. They are debarred from residing in the rural districts. Many branches of petty trade and manual production are closed to them in the overcrowded cities where they are forced to dwell and engage against fearful odds in the desperate struggle for existence. Even as ordinary artisans or hired laborers they may only find employment in the propor-tion of one 'unprotected alien' to two 'Roumanians' under any one employer. In short by the cumulative effect of successive restrictions the Jews Roumania have become reduced to a from nearly every avenue of self-support which is open to the poor of other lands and ground down by poverty as the natural result of their discriminatory treatment they are rendered in-capable of lifting themselves from the Even were the fields of education, o civil employment and of open to them as to 'Roumanian citibens' their penury would prevent their rising by individual effort. It must be, in most cases, the mere transplantation of an artificially produced diseased growth to a new place. Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 17.-When the Republican state convention assembled today, it was evident that there would be a fight on the plank of the platform endorsing President Roosevelt for renomination. 7.—Both craters of La Soufriere have been active since Sept. 11. The top of the mountain is usually covered with clouds, but being excep-tionally clear of them this morning, two natives, named Cummings and Adams, ventured to ascend the volcano, and reached the summit of the ld crater. Sept. 3 this crater contained water. It is now nearly filled with sand, and has a funnel-shaped eavity in the center. Cummings and Adams saw flames rising from three distinct places in the crater. They experienced a narrow escape. The heat on the mountain was intolerable.

The predictions made by American cientists with regard to later erup tions at La Soufriere are being sig-nally fulfilled. Much anxiety was felt here today, as it had been predicted that an eruption would occur. Up to o'clock this afternoon no alarming indications of an outbreak had been reported.

Uprising of Boxers Probable.

London, Sept. 18 .- Cabling from Shanghai under date of Sept. 17, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says that Cheng Tufu. capital of the province of Szechuen, is surrounded by 50,000 Boxers, but that their attempts to take the city have so far failed. Without immediate help, however, Cheng Tufu must fall.

"A prominent Chinese merchant tells me," continues the Daily Mail's correspondent, "that if Cheng Tufu is taken, a rising in the province is in evitable. To further complicate mat ters, the feuds between Protestant and Catholic converts are now worse than at any previous stage and magisteria jurisdiction in various matters has been unwarrantedly interfered with by priests and missionaries.'
